

Frequently Asked Questions

Assisted Living Program The Kensington

Q. What is the The Kensington Subsidy program?

A. The Kensington entered into an Agreement with the City of Falls Church to provide a total annual credit of $107,120 to supplement the basic fees, care costs, and other services of one or more eligible residents and/or their family members at the assisted living facility at 700 W. Broad Street, Falls Church.

Q. How does the subsidy program work?

A. Every year The Kensington will provide the City of Falls Church with a maximum credit that can be used toward the care of eligible participants. This is combined with payment from participants, which is based on their ability to pay. Unused credit will not roll over to the following year.

Q. How many people can be served through this subsidy program?

A. We anticipate that one or two people will be served at a time depending on their care needs and ability to pay. The total subsidy paid by The Kensington for all participants cannot exceed $107,120.

Q. What are the eligibility requirements for The Kensington subsidy program?

A.

- Age: Individuals must be at least 62 years old. An individual under 62 may accompany a spouse who is 62 or over.
- Income: Criteria for eligibility are based on the income guidelines circulated by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). An income guideline chart is attached.
 - Low income is defined as less than 50% of the area median income (adjusted for family size).
 - Moderate income is defined as 50% to 80% of the area median income (adjusted for family size).

Priority is given to individuals with low income.

- Assets: No more than $40,000 in liquid or non-liquid assets, including home equity, are allowed in order to be eligible for the subsidy.
- Residence: Beds in the program are reserved for residents of the City and members of their immediate families (i.e. mother, father, grandfather, grandmother, brother, sister, father-in-law, mother-in-law, or child). Residents who have been living in the City for at least two years receive first priority, but if there is no one in that category to fill the bed, it can be offered to a resident who has been in the City for a shorter period of time.

Q. Are assets counted in determining income qualifications?

A. Yes. No more than $40,000 liquid or non-liquid assets, including home equity, are allowed in order to be eligible for the subsidy. If there is a community spouse living in the home, the home equity will not be taken into consideration unless the property is sold.

Q. How much do individuals in the subsidy program pay to The Kensington?

A. Individuals pay 80 percent of their gross income from all sources, minus health insurance premiums. This form of payment also applies to couples moving in together. In the event there is a community spouse, all income will be taken into consideration then divided in half.

Q. Who pays for any services the individual may need that are beyond resident's monthly payment?

A. Charges beyond the resident's ability to pay will be covered by the subsidy until it is depleted. The subsidy is renewed annually.

Q. What happens if room and board and the cost of care exceed the amount of credit allocated by the subsidy program?

A. In the event room and board and the cost of care exceed the amount of the accounting subsidy, the resident will have to pay the difference or make arrangements to transfer to a different program or facility.

Q. What is the State Auxiliary Grant (AG)?

A. An AG is an income supplement for individuals who receive Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and certain other aged, blind, or disabled individuals who reside in a licensed assisted living facility.

An AG payment is issued to an individual monthly, to be used with a designated amount of their monthly income to pay an assisted living facility a maximum monthly rate. This rate is determined by the Virginia General Assembly and is adjusted periodically.

For additional information on the State Auxiliary Grant, contact the Fairfax County Department of Family Services at 703-324-7500.

Q. May an individual use the State Auxiliary Grant program to participate in The Kensington subsidy program?

A. Yes, the State Auxiliary Grant program may be used to pay for room and board, and for any additional fees associated with the care of the resident.
